EXPLANATION – Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets [thus] in the above bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted in the law.

Matter underlined thus is new matter.
This bill seeks to expand the availability of family planning services under the Medicaid program in State fiscal year 2010-2011. Specifically, the legislation requires the State to submit the necessary application to the federal government so that the State’s Medicaid program can offer family planning services to individuals with incomes of up to 200 percent of the federal poverty level rather than only to individuals meeting the income cap of up to 133 percent of the federal poverty level under the current State plan. If within 60 days of the bill’s date of enactment the State fails to apply for a permission to expand coverage, the bill eliminates the unexpended State fiscal year 2010-2011 Direct State Services appropriation for the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services in the Department of Human Services.

The bill thus mandates that the State take advantage of a provision in the recently enacted federal health care reform law that created a state option to provide Medicaid coverage for family planning services to individuals with income up to 200 percent of the federal poverty level. States exercising the state option will receive $9 in federal reimbursement for every $1 they spend for family planning services.

Prior to passage of the federal health care reform law, states that sought to expand family planning services to additional low-income individuals were required to apply for and obtain a Medicaid waiver. The waiver, however, was difficult to secure, was only valid for a limited number of years, and had to be renewed periodically. New Jersey has sought such a waiver in the past but the federal government has never approved the State’s request.

The bill also requires that the Department of Human Services file a report with the State Legislature indicating the amounts the State spent in fiscal year 2009-2010 for family planning services to individuals whose income is more than 133% but not more than 200% of the federal poverty level, and the amounts the State appropriated therefor in fiscal year 2010-2011. If the report is not provided within 60 days of the bill’s date of enactment, the bill eliminates the unexpended State fiscal year 2010-2011 Direct State Services appropriation for the Division of Medical Assistance and Health Services in the Department of Human Services.

Family planning services include information and counseling on reproductive choices and birth control methods; comprehensive physicals and health screenings; pelvic and breast exams; pregnancy testing; the diagnosis and treatment of sexually transmitted diseases; AIDS testing and counseling; prenatal substance abuse programs; colposcopy, cryotherapy, and loop electrosurgical excision procedures; and adolescent risk reduction counseling.
