Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill provides that any candidate voted for at any election who is an aggrieved party or any elector who voted on any referendum question at any election may petition for a recount. The bill defines an “aggrieved party” as any of the following:

1. For an election at which 4,000 or fewer votes are cast for the office that the candidate seeks, a candidate who trails the leading candidate by no more than 40 votes after the official canvass.

2. For an election at which more than 4,000 votes are cast for the office that the candidate seeks, a candidate who trails the leading candidate by no more than 1 percent of the total votes cast for that office after the official canvass.

Current law allows any candidate to petition for a recount regardless of the difference between the votes cast for the petitioner and those cast for the leading candidate. Under current law, and under the bill, if the difference between the votes cast for the petitioner and those cast for the leading candidate is more than 0.25 percent of the total votes cast for the office that the candidates seek, the petitioner must pay a fee equal to the actual cost of performing the recount.

ASSEMBLY BILL 153

The bill also provides that the actual cost of performing a recount includes the actual cost incurred by the Elections Commission to provide services for performing the recount and allows the commission to recover that cost. In addition, under the bill, a person must file a petition for a recount no later than 5 p.m. on the first business day following the last meeting of the board of canvassers and the county board of canvassers may convene to conduct the recount no later than 9 a.m. on the third day after receiving the order for a recount. Under current law, a person must file a petition for a recount no later than 5 p.m. on the third business day following the last meeting of the board of canvassers and the county board of canvassers may convene to conduct the recount no later than 9 a.m. on the second day after receiving the order for a recount.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
