4 twenty-four hours or less have expired, commencing at the time of the 5 person being taken into custody by such police officer, or any person 6 acting on behalf of a police officer, even when no arrest number has 7 been issued. The failure or inability of any government agency to 8 fulfill the requirements of this section, as determined by the court
9 after application made by the detainee or their counsel, shall require

4 any entity for any purpose.

5 3. For the purposes of this section, authorized users shall be limit-

8 with ensuring that authorized users are employed by such defender organ-

28 adding a new subdivision (f) to read as follows:

29 (f) Persons detained for longer than twenty-four hours. For purposes 30 of this article, when a writ of habeas corpus is heard challenging the 31 pre-arraignment detention of a person detained for more than twenty-four 32 hours, there shall be an evidentiary presumption that such detention is 33 unnecessary, and unlawful as defined in section 140.20 of the criminal 34 procedure law, until and unless such presumption is rebutted by clear 35 and convincing evidence that such a delay was actually necessary for 36 each individual petitioner identified in the writ.

37 § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
